Group & Corporate Sales Catalog
Spring/Summer 2025

Stio was founded in 2011 in Jackson, Wyoming by longtime locals living the mountain life. We are skiers, anglers, bikers, hikers and paddlers. Time spent outside on trails, in rivers and on summits inspires everything we create. Designed, developed and tested at the base of the Tetons, Stio was founded to inspire connection with the outdoors through premium, technical apparel.

Rollick™ Hooded Jacket | $169

Mountain lifers never shy away from a little weather, and we built this jacket to be the trusted shell that keeps you out there when the forecast calls for wet. Fully seam-sealed and with a weather-shedding DWR finish, the Teton-tested 2.5L PeakProof™ ripstop material seals out storms and is made with 100% recycled nylon for a lighter environmental impact. Pack it into its own pocket and clip onto a pack or stash in the truck for a bit of storm insurance. Underarm vents allow cooling airflow and an interior zippered chest pocket stashes the essentials. The storm-sealing hem, YKK® reverse coil zips and a bonded-brim hood provide functional features while still looking low-key in town.

Second Light® Windshell | $129

Inspired by and designed for the exposed, blustery alpine ridges of the Tetons and beyond, this ultralight shell is the light-and-fast outer layer of choice for trail running, chasing summits or climbing to higher elevations. Its new, featherlight reMeridian™ stretch mini-ripstop fabric is made with 100% recycled nylon and treated with a highly weather-resistant PFAS-free DWR finish to block wind and shed moisture with a smaller environmental footprint. Packable enough to fit into its own zippered chest pocket, reflective tabs add visibility and updated thumb loops secure cuffs while on the move, making this hoodie the perfect stash shell.

Dawner™ Hooded Jacket | $229

With mountain performance matched only by its go-all-day comfort, the Dawner is the ideal high-performance, low-profile insulator for chilly trail runs, late-season ski tours and any cold-weather pursuits that up your heart rate. The secret? An interior fully lined from hood to hand pockets with silky-soft Octa™ insulation. Constructed in a slightly raised diamond grid pattern that holds in heat while allowing sweat to evaporate, it feels soft on skin and slides smoothly over a tee or baselayer. For dynamic mobility, the durable stretch outer moves with you and allows sweat to escape, with a DWR finish that sheds light precip. It can compress into one of its own lined, zippered hand pockets for easy stashing in a running vest or summit pack.

Dawner™ Vest | $179

The Octa™ insulation that made our Dawner Jacket a trusted companion for cool, active days is now our go-to vest. Lightweight and breathable, the interior wears soft on skin and is designed in a diamond grid pattern that reduces bulk, creating a sleek shape that holds in warmth while letting moisture escape. The smooth nylon outer sheds wind and weather and incorporates stretch for easy range of motion. It packs small enough to fit into its own zippered pocket, and the adjustable hem seals out sneaky updrafts and customizes fit.

Crester™ Half Zip | $85

Dynamic and technical, this half zip thrives on mountain life's full range of athletic pursuits and now has an improved collar fit for more comfort while you do them. The key to its performance is Floe™ fabric treated with Smart Temp Technology that controls odor and improves thermal regulation, keeping you cooler as the pace picks up. Slight stretch and an athletic fit are designed to move with you. With minimal seams for less friction and thumbholes for easy layering, this half zip holds the ideal balance of performance and comfort.

Crester™ Tee SS | $55

The Crester is more than your standard wicking athletic tee. Not only does it excel at temperature regulation during hot weather workouts, its innovative stretch Floe™ fabric technology wicks moisture and controls odor while resting comfortably on skin. Slight stretch provides ample range for summer bike rides and long trail runs. We minimized seams to reduce friction and incorporated reflective logos to provide visibility during dawn or dusk missions.

Hylas® Hooded Pullover | $89

Designed for those roaster days on the river, trail or rock when cloud cover is nothing but a fantasy, this is a versatile, highly protective sun hoodie that's essential for mountain waterways and other high-exposure alpine playgrounds. The quick-drying and breathable reHelion™ fabric offers exceptional stretch and UPF 50+ protection. HeiQ Fresh and HeiQ Smart Temp finishes minimize odor and facilitate cooling when temps spike.

Azura® Insulated Jacket | $229

Stuff this ultra-compressible, lightweight, year-round insulator into your carry-on for travel missions or at the bottom of your pack for backcountry excursions. 60g of PrimaLoft® Gold Eco synthetic, 100% recycled insulation offers the ultimate in thermal efficiency: incredible warmth-to-weight ratio, breathability and softness that comforts in the nastiest of conditions. A modern quilting pattern complements the 20 denier, 100% recycled nylon outer for subtle protection from wind and light precipitation. A fully adjustable hem with low-pro cord locks the wind out, elastic cuff bindings won't catch on any gear and interior/exterior pockets store your essentials.

Stewards Of The Mountain Life

We are committed to using premium materials and quality construction to create durable goods that last.

Brandon Cole

We live and love the mountain life, and we see ourselves as caretakers of the resources that provide it. That's why we are committed to a higher standard of business operations and have identified key areas of impact in which we pledge to benchmark, do better and report out on our progress. Though we haven't yet reached where we want to be and will keep striving to do better, we're proud to share our progress in these highlights from our third annual Stewardship Report.

Our Partners

We're proud to partner with these organizations in their missions to responsibly advance outdoor recreation and protect our wild surroundings:
